

PASTOR ANGIE JUERGENS

Angie currently serves as the Lead Pastor at New City Marshalltown. Her journey in ministry began in 2005, serving in various roles such as Worship Leader, Church Administrator, and Assistant Pastor. But her passion for ministry ignited when she first felt the call to ministry at a young age.

What really drives Angie is her belief in the power of community and the ability of the church to transform lives. She's all about creating a space where everyone feels empowered to share their unique gifts and thrive in their relationship with Christ. For her, it's not just about Sundays; it's about fostering genuine connections and bringing healing and transformation to both the church and the wider community.

Angie holds a Master of Arts in Evangelism & Leadership through Wheaton College's Liftin School of Mission, Ministry, and Leadership and Bachelor of Arts in Vocal Music Performance from Central College. She is also ordained through New Wells Ministry Network.

Angie and her husband, Alex, live in Central Iowa and love life with their four amazing kids. Max and his wife, Ashleigh, recently accepted a call to launch Salt Company, a campus ministry at Minnesota State University at Mankato. Emi is soaking up college life at the University of Northern Iowa, deeply involved in Chi Alpha student ministries.

Lane is rocking high school sports with his golf, tennis, and basketball skills and is involved in a local youth group. Cole is tearing it up on the junior high basketball courts and football fields, and can't wait for high school golf to begin. When the family is not at the golf course, you'll likely find them at the nearest lake, soaking up the sun, skiing, surfing, and jamming out to their favorite tunes.
